From the Group CEO's Desk

JABER ABDUL WAHAB,
CEO - BRIDGEWAY GROUP OF COMPANIES

To be successful, we frequently come across recipes for success such as "In order to achieve success, one needs to work hard, learn more, be confident, think positive, etc."

In my view, everyone has different styles and qualities within them which may help them in their journey to success. It is important that you realize your own style and way of life. Strengths greatly vary from person to person- be in academics, sports, performing arts, reflective thinking, writing, etc.

The real challenge lies in identifying and understanding your strength and style, and this should be the key to success. It is important that you find your strengths and recognize your weaknesses and then take guidelines or tips to correct the flaws instead of trying to change yourself fully to imitate the successful personalities in the world.

Success cannot be measured by the amount of money you make. In other words, money is only one aspect of success. However, the key parameters are - How well you take care of yourself and the people around you? How creative you are or what innovations have you brought into the system?

Finally, do not take the pleasure of outdoing your competitors as it is only a momentary pleasure. Instead, learn from their positives as a benchmark towards success.

Positive Thinking

DEEPA. K.C, VICE PRINCIPAL

Life is a battle, one has to fight it fearlessly. Fight with confidence- positive attitude, right aptitude with determination and concentrated efforts, lead to the surest path of success. Fortune is said to favour the brave. A coward or a pessimist dare not even to fight in the race, it is an optimist and a determined soul, who dares to fight, has the chance of success.

"A winner never quits and a quitter never wins" shows that one who constantly tries to achieve something, one who endeavours hard incessantly to achieve something, he is the winner, sooner or later, but a quitter could never be a winner.

Through positive thinking one can overcome any obstacles. One who always thinks positively even in adverse circumstances wins. Positive thinking always pays because life belongs to the ambitious. Every thought we think is creating our future.
